Of Interest To Vetcrans

John W. Bush, Director of the Ohio Veterans Bonus Commission, has requested all elements of the news media, veterans' organizations and every concerned citizen to assist the Commission in locating returned Vietnam Prisoners of War, eligable for the Ohio bonus.

"The only criterion ex-POW's must meet to qualify for a special bonus of $1000," he said, "is proof of 1 full year of Ohio residency immediately prior to entering service during the compensable perios of the Vietnam Conflict, from February 28, 1961, to July 1, 1973."

Bush stated that the Commission is using the official list compiled by the Department of Defense when American prisoners were returned to U.S. military control.

"That roster," he said, "shows only an individual's home of record given on entering service. It has been some help, but we want to reach every one of Ohio's POW's wherever they are and

USDA Reports Changes In Beekeeper Indemnity Program

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently proposed to increase indemnity payments to beekeepers whose bees are killed or damaged by pesticides used near their bee colonies.

The prosposed new rates would be $22.50 for a destroyed colony (up to $7.50); $15 for a severely damaged colony (up $5); $5.50 for a moderately damaged colony (up 50 cents), and $5.50 for each queen nucleus destroyed (up 50 cents).

Other proposed changes in the indemnity program would:

1. Eliminate the option accorded beekeepers to have their indemnity payment computed on the basis of their net loss of income. All claims would be filed on the basis of flat rates of payment for each colony killed or damaged.

2. Discontinue payment for multiple losses suffered by the same colony within the calendar year. The beekeeper who suffers multiple losses of the same colony would be permitted to claim the most severe damage suffered by a colony during the year.

3. Require that the person inspecting the bee certify that the loss resulted from pesticides and was not caused by disease, starvation, or neglect. If the inspector cannot make this certification, the beekeeper must furnish the type of evidence now required such as statements from farmers, applicators, local government agencies, or colleges or universities to prove that pesticides caused the damage.

All other eligibility requirements for earning an indemnity payment would remain unchanged.

The indemnity program was authorized by the Agricultural Act of 1970 and was extended through 1977 by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.

Comments, suggestions or objections regarding the proposed amendment are invited. They should be sent to the Deputy Administrator, programs, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250. All comments received before May 15, 1974 will be considered before final action is taken. Comments will be available for examination in the office of the Deputy Administrator, Administrator, Administration Building, Room 243-W, 8:15 to 4:45 week days.
